ST. PETERSBURG IN WINTER.

The most severe cold which we have in England is mild weather compared with that which the inhabitants of the Russian capital have to bear every winter. The cold season lasts eight months. During most of that time ice and snow are everywhere to be seen. The broad, clear river Neva, so beautiful in summer, covered with shipping of all nations, and dotted with gay pleasure boats, is then a sheet of ice, and becomes the fashionable drive, the busiest and most crowded part of the city.

The days are often cloudless during this severe season; the sun in mid-winter shines for only a short time on the golden domes of the churches, and gilds the upper stories of the houses with a cheerful light. Every horse is a gray one, for under the thick coating of frost which covers them their real color cannot be seen, and every cabman looks like a venerable old man, with his frost covered beard, from which icicles frequently hang.

If we go to the Newsky Prospect, the chief street in St Petersburg, about noon, we shall scarcely be able to pass through the crowds which the fine weather has enticed out in the open air In the center of the street are many sledges racing along at marvelous pace. Some of these are private vehicles, and fitted up with every elegance and comfort; they are often fashioned into light and fanciful shapes wreathed with serpents, lined with scarlet cloth, and covered with the richest furs, 'Faster! faster!' is the cry of the gay occupants, as they glide over the hardened snow, or along the surface of the ice bound Neva. Generals, princes, nobles, the Emperor, himself, are striving to outstrip meaner charioteers in the rapid course.

On approaching the frozen surface of the Neva we shall probably see a group of Samoyedes, a people who come from the shores of the polar sea. In the barren wastes in which they live no animal exists, except the reindeer and the dog, which God has put in every region of the earth as the friend and helper of man. These Samoyedes are fond of eating—still more of drinking; and sleep is their favorite state. Most of them live in tents, which they pitch in different places, according to the needs of their flock of reindeer, which are generally from 10,000 to 20,000 in number. But what are these Samoyedes doing in St Petersburgh? The spirit of enterprise, which masters even the most slothful has stirred even them. These sons of the polar regions have come here in order for a few copecs, to drive us from the palace to the Nicolai Bridge, and give us a chance of trying the speed of the reindeer; for this distance is performed there and back in a very few minutes. The sledges of those people which serve them both for winter and summer, are of simple form.

The dress of the Samoyedes is made of the skins of animals. Even the shirts they wear are of reindeer skin, the hairy side turned inward. Their stockings and boots are also of the same material, sewn together with threads of various colors The women dress in skins too; but their clothing is much more gay than that of the men. They sometimes wear a hood of sable, or other costly fur. The Samoyedes are very dirty people; the smell in their tents is unbearable, and their faces and their hands know knothing of water. Their reindeers are splendid animals; like our finest stags, but much stronger and larger.

During the fine days of winter there is a regular fair on the Neva; here are stalls for the sale of roasted chestnuts and hot tea, the favorite beverage of the Russians of all classes. Even green gambling tables may sometimes be seen on the ice, surrounded by bearded peasants.

Now and then reindeer sledge races take place on the Neva; then the banks of the river are crowded by a gay throng of the wealthier inhabitants; stands are erected, in which many of them sit during the races, in spite of the intense cold. The excitement is very great, and the police have often to interfere to keep order among the many throng. This foolish pastime can never last long, for the evening fog comes on at a very early hour, and it is then so cold that all are obliged to hasten homewards.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.

The Hartford Courant is in a humorous mood over the memory of Columbus:

It is certainly time that something should be done for the memory of Columbus. It is to be hoped that the thirty seven guns fired off for him on Thursday, in Boston, were some satisfaction to him. They were discharged by countrymen of his, who are justly proud that he should have been able, after a search of only a few weeks, to find a land where the hand organ had never been heard. The Italians, as a people, have not profited much by this discovery; not so much, indeed, as the Spaniards, who got a reputation by it which even now gilds their decay. That Columbus was born in Genoa entitles the Italians to celebrate the great achievement of his life, though why they should discharge exactly thirty-seven guns we do not know. Columbus did not discover the United States; that we partly found ourselves, bought and gouged the Mexicans out of. He did not even appear to know that there was a continent here. He discovered the West Indies, which he thought was the East, and ten guns would be enough for them. It is probable that he did, however, open the way to the discovery of the new world. If he had waited, however, somebody else would have discovered it—perhaps some Englishman, and then we might have been spared all the old French and Spanish wars. Columbus let the Spaniards into the new world, and their civilization has uniformly been a curse to it. If he had brought Italians, who neither at that time showed, nor since have shown, much inclination to come, we should have had the opera, and made it a paying institution by this time. Columbus was evidently a person who liked to rail about, and didn't care much for consequences.

Perhaps it is not an open thing whether Columbus did a good thing in first coming over here—one that we ought to celebrate with salutes and dinners. The Indians never thanked him for one party. The Africans had small ground to be grateful for the market he opened for them. Here are two continents that had no use for him. He led Spain into a dance of great expectations, which ended in her gorgeous ruin. He introduced tobacco into Europe, and laid the foundation for more tracts and nervous diseases than Romans had in a thousand years. He introduced the potato into Ireland indirectly, and that caused such a rapid increase of population that the great famine was the result, and an enormous emigration to New York—hence Tweed and Hall and the constituency of the ring. Columbus is really responsible for New York. He is responsible for our whole tremendous experiment of democracy, open to all comers, the best three in five to win. We can not yet tell how it is coming out. What with the foreigners and the Communist and women, it is a great stage on which a comedy and tragedy in one piece are being played, with what denouement we can not yet say. If it comes out well, we ought to erect a monument to Christopher as high as the one at Washington expects to be, and we presume it is well to fire a salute occasionally to keep the ancient mariner in mind while we are trying our great experiment. And this reminds us that he ought to have had a naval salute.

There is something almost heroic in the idea of firing off guns, for a man who has been stone dead for about four centuries. It must have had a lively and festive sound in Boston when the meaning of the salute was explained. No one could hear those great guns without a quicker beating of the heart in gratitude to the great discoverer who had made Boston possible. We are trying to realize to ourselves the importance of the 12th of October as an anniversary of our potential existence. If any one wants to see how vivid is the gratitude to Columbus, let him start out among our business houses with a subscription paper to raise money for powder to be exploded in his honor, and yet Columbus was a well meaning man, and if he did not discover a perfect continent he found the only one that was left.

HOW WOMEN STUDY IN RUSSIA.

In no country in Europe is so much attention paid, at present, to the education of women as in Russia. While even in Germany elementary schools are considered a sufficient discharge of governmental duty toward the beautiful sex, and the rest is left to private instruction, in Russia the government undertakes to give its daughters a thorough education. Not merely in the capitals, but in all small towns, courses of free study are established, and with the exception of the dead languages, the girls learn every thing that is taught to the boys. Mathematics, natural sciences, physics, history, geography; and the native tongue, which it takes even a Russian a long time to learn, is made the object of special attention. Although most of the students belong to the poorer classes, the modern languages are freely given them, German, French, and even English being taught. The pupils who have followed and finished a regular course of instruction, receive a diploma announcing that they are qualified to teach; without it they can not even obtain situations as governesses.

In the very farthest interior of Russia, one may to day find the institute, of which every little village possesses one, and where, at government expense, the young ladies of the locality receive a very good education. All women who desire to teach in these institutes are compelled to submit to a rigid technical examination at the University. Notwithstanding all this the Russian women are far from satisfied, and now ask for a University of their own. They were originally admitted to the universities the same as young men but in troublous political times they were too apt to take part in the college demonstrations against the dynasty, and as a punishment they were expelled. But they are even now admitted to the so called public courses of lectures, and they intend to force lenient opinion to give them every grade of study which man has offered to him.

THE CANDLE IN THE GUN-POWDER

We have read of a thrilling story of a merchant who was one evening celebrating the marriage of his daughter. While the guests were enjoying themselves above he chanced to go to the basement hall below, where he met a servant, carrying a lighted candle without a candlestick. She passed on to the cellar for wood, and returning quickly without the candle, the merchant suddenly remembered that during the day, several barrels of gunpowder had been placed in the cellar, one of which had been opened. Inquiring what she had done with the candle, to his amazement and horror her reply was that not being able carry it with the wood she had set it in a barrel of 'black sand,' in the cellar.

He flew to the spot. A long red snuff was ready to fall from the wick into the mass of powder, when, with great presence of mind, placing one hand on each side of the candle, and making his hands meet at the top, over the wick, he safely removed the candle from the barrel. At first he smiled at his previous terror, but the reaction was so great that it was weeks before he overcame the shock which his nerves had sustained in that terrible moment.

There are candles in many a barrel of gunpowder to day. Many homes have already been blown to ruin by them. There is a candle in a cellar of the wine bibber. It burns brighter with the added fuel of every cup he drams, and, before he is aware, all his hopes for this world and the next will be blown up with a ruin more terrible than any destruction which gunpowder can bring.

There is a candle in the cellar of the liquor dealer, burning slowly, but surely. He who is dealing death to others will yet be startled by the sudden burst of his own peace, when the anger of God, restrained no longer, shall fall upon him in a moment. "Every way of a man is right in his eyes, but the Lord pondereth the hearts." 'He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance shall gather it for him that will pity the poor.' "If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are already to be slain; if thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not! doth not He that pondereth the heart consider it? And He that keepeth thy soul, doth not He know it? And shall not he render to every man according to his works? The man who is wilfully destroying himself may be deluded, and see no danger; the man who is destroying others may say, 'I do not see it,' but the eye of Him who ponders both their ways, sees no only the evil but the sudden destruction which is before them if they do not speedily repent and reform. See to it, that no righteous anger burn against you. See to it that no burning candle is endangering you in your cellar.—Temperance Advocate.

Now that the plans for a church in New York of the established faith of Russia have arrived from St Petersburg, it will doubtless be interesting to know how a Russian church is constructed, and particularly how the edifice in prospect is to be built, on the lot purchased some time ago on Lexington avenue. The Greek or Russian church is officially known as the Orthodox Eastern church.

A Russian Orthodox church is generally built in the form of a cross or of a ship. The position of the edifice is always from west to east. The inner space of the church is divided into three principal parts. In the east is the altar. An entrance to it is generally not accorded to persons not set apart to any service in the church. The second principal division is the church proper, also called in which the faithful meet for worship. The third division consists of an ante-chamber, and a porch, which latter is sometimes called outer, as the former is designated the ante chamber. The inner ante chamber was once set apart for the catechumens and certain penitents. It is sometimes called the trapeza (table or dining hall), because here in the primitive age of the church the love feast of Agapœ was held, that is, a meal consisting of the gifts brought by the faithful. In the outer hall formerly stood the penitents of the lowest grade, or those usually called Flents. The first and foremost part of the altar is the holy table. This is first covered with a linnen called a katasarca, and over this is a light covering called a endytion. On the upper surface of the table, over the endytion, is placed the ilition, made of a silk cloth, and in this the Bishop places the antrimension.

The altar is separated from the church proper by a wooden partition called the inconosta, on which are depicted the forms of saints. Through this partition there are three doors leading from the sanctuary to the altar. The central one, the largest and most holy, is called the kingly, or the holy door, in signification that through this one the holy or the Heavenly King enters into the holy gifts. On the altar side the holy doors are provided with a movable curtain, the drawing of withdrawing of which has reference to the important part of the transaction of the holy table. Through the holy door only a bishop, priest or deacon may enter the holy altar.

The holy doors are ever ornamented with the picture of the annunciation signifying that through the incarnation of God, the word, heaven was first opened for the redemption of man; and also with the picture of the four evangelists, because they, like Gabrial, the archangel, were instrumental in announcing to the world the heavenly message of salvation.

The Russian Chapel in this city is established chiefly for the Imperial embassy, and for the Russians of the city of New York, but all persons may attend in so far as space permits.

JOSH BILLINGS UNDER OATH.

Josh Billings being duly sworn testifies as follows:

Eight wont go into six and have much of enny thing left over. Menny a young fellow has found out this sum in arithmetic by trying tew get a number eight foot in a number six boot.

Virtue, in one respekt, is like munny That which we have tew work the hardest for, sticks tew us the best.

Affectashun never improved ennybody yet. It is better tew be a devil than a hypocritt,

I hev often herd thare waz men who knew more than they could tell, but I never met one. I have often met those who could tell a great deal more than they did kno, and waz willing tew swear to it besides.

To be proof against flattery, a man must hav no vanity, and such a man never existed; if he did, he is now one of the lost arts.

Sum people are good simply because they are tew lazy tew be wicked, and others because they hant got a good chance.

In munny, interest phollows the principal, in morals, principal often phollows the interest.

Yu will not's one thing—the devil seldom offers tew go into partnership with a bizzy man, but yu will often see him offer to jine the lazy man, and furnish all the kapital.

Love is the only pashun of the heart that I can think of now, that never makes enny mistakes that she kan be held accountable for. If yu was a going tew try pure love for a crime, what court would yu take her before?

In time of peace prepare for war. This is the way sum families liv all the time.

The vices which man kontracts in his youth, however much he may shake them oph, will often call on him thro life tew renew his acquaintance.

Every man haz his follys, but there is this difference—in the poor man tha look like crimes, while in the rich man, tha only appear tew be exsentricitys.

Old age increases us in wisdom, and also in rumatism

I kno lots of folks who are pious just because they were born so. They kant tell when they got religion, and if they should looze it they wouldn't kno it.

When fortune pipes, we must dance. It a'n't always that she is in tune.

I think the honesty ov sum men iz oftener the effect of policy than principle.

There iz only one kind of folks who kan keep a secret good, and they never take any to keep.

The man who iz wicked enuff tew be dreaded iz a safer man in the community than than the one who is just virtuous enuff to be suspected.

Hypocrasy is always humble.

Gravity don't prove enny thing. If a man really iz wise, he don't need it, and if he ain't wise, he shouldn't hav it.

There iz no excuse whatever for the existence of wealth; there may possibly be for the insolence of poverty.

Don't forget one thing mi boy—that when five men hail you a success, and one man kalls you a failure, that the one man's testimony iz what fetches the jury.

Lazyness iz the fust law of natur; self preservation iz the second.

Yu kant convert sinners bi preaching the gospel tow them at half price. Enny sinner who iz anxious tew git his religion in that way iz satisfied with a poor thing.

A TOUGH STORY.

There is a place in Maine so rocky, that when the down easters plant corn they look for crevices in the rocks, and shoot the grains in with a musket; they can't raise ducks there nohow, for the stones are so thick that the ducks can't get their bills between them to pick up the grasshoppers, and the only way that the sheep can get at the spigs of grass is by grinding their noses on a grindstone.

But that ain't a circumstance to a place on the eastern shore; there the land is so poor, that on a clear day you can see the grasshoppers climb up a melon stalk, and look with tears in their eyes over a ten acre field; and the bumble bees have to go down on their knees to get at the grass; all the mosquitoes died of starvation, and the turkey buzzards had to emigrate. But there is a county in Virginia which can beat that: there is a land so sterile that when the wind is in the northwest, they have to tie the children to keep them from being blown away; there it takes six frogs to see a man, and when the dogs bark they have to lean against the fence; the horses are so thin that it takes twelve of them to make a shadow, and when they kill an ox they have to hold him up to knock him down! But, oh!—there is a region in Jersey, saith Mose Draper, where they held two weeks jubilee in the churches, because it was announced that a fresh blade of grass had sprouted in the southern end of the county. There the natives once murdered the traveler for the sake of half a gingerbread cake, which he was rumored to have in his pocket; and there too they turned a man out of meeting because, after a visit to Philadelphia, he reported that while in the city he had at one time as much as he could eat. Sich is life.

Poor, little, pinched, tired feet! How my heart ached for them, as I saw them encased in snug, trim, buttoned boots! They were on the feet of a little girl four or five years of age. The night train had just reached its destination, and early morning found us very tired and sleepy, as we stepped to the platform and hurried on our way.

The child had evidently worn those new, tight boots all night, and was now so stiff and lame that each step was distortion of her dear little feet and ankles How the poor child must have suffered during the long hours of that night of travel! I thought, 'When will parents learn common sense, and dress their children for comfort!'

All day long, as I journed on, and many times since have I seen, in imagination, the poor, little pinched feet, as I saw them on that morning.

Tight shoes—what misery they give. Who of us has not worn them, and suffered in them, and felt as though we could not endure them another moment?

How our tempers have been turned, and peevish or angry retorts given, all on account of tight shoes!

Let us also be charitable to the failings and faults of others; for if not caused by tight shoes on the feet, they may be pinched somewhere, either in body or mind. There are aches and pains, secret trials and disappointments, that may be called the tight shoes of the soul. Yes; and how often we wear them perversely, suffering anguish when we have only to throw off the bondage, the desire for conventional trimness of effect, and, shod appropriately and sensibly, step forth cheerily on our way!—Hearth and Home.

A young urchin, was employed to sweep the chimney of a house in Macclesford, and having ascended to the summit of his profession took a survey. This completed he prepared to descend, but mistaking the flue, he found himself, on his landing, in the office of a limb of the law, whose meditations were put to flight. The consation of both parties it is impossible to describe—the boy, terrified lest he should be punished stood rooted to the spot, and the lawyer struck dumb, started from his seat in very large of horror, but spoke not. Sooty, however, soon found a tongue, and in accents which only increased the terrors of the man of law, cried out, 'My father's cummin' directly.' This was enough; the presence of such an equivocal being, so introduced, unnerved his heart; with one bound the affrighted lawyer flew down stairs, and sought refuge in the street from the enemy.

A gentleman in Alabama, in exerting himself one day felt a sudden pain, and fearing his internal machinery had been thrown out of order, sent for a negro of his plantation, who made some pretensions to medical skill, to prescribe for him. The negro, having investigated the cause, prepared and administered a dose to his patient with the utmost confidence of a speedy cure. No relief being experienced, however, the physician, who, on arriving, inquired of the negro what medicine he had given his master. Bob promptly responded:

'Rosin and alum, sah.'

'What did you give them for?' continued the doctor.

'Why, de alum to draw the parts together, and de rosin to sooner um.'

The patient eventually recovered.

LIME AND SALT.

Prof Johnson recommends as an excellent combination for fertilizing purposes to mix one bushel salt and two bushel dry lime, under cover, and allow the mixture to decompose gradually, thus forming an intimate chemical union of the two materials. For this purpose the mixture should lie at least six weeks before use, or still better, two or three months, the heap mentioned being turned over occasionally. This salt and lime mixed when applied at the rate of twenty or thirty bushels per acre, forms an excellent top dressing for many crops. It acts powerfully on the vegetable matter of soils. Fifty bushels will produce as large a crop as twenty loads of barn yard manure. It is also very destructive to insects and grubs in soil. It has a tendency to attract moisture from the air, and has been useful against drouth. Its decomposing power is remarkable, and if three or four bushels of it are mixed with forty or fifty of swamp muck, the latter will soon be reduced to powder.

It is a fine thing to be able to ripen without shriveling; to reach the calmness of age and still keep the heart and ready sympathy of youth.

There is a needle factory in New Haven where the whole process is done by a single machine, without the manual labor of any person. A coil of steel wire is put in; the machine cuts it off at the required lengths; it cuts the steel pieces consecutively, punches the eye-holes, counter sinks the eyes, and grinds the points—and in fact does everything until the needles drop out completely formed. Another machine picks them up and arranges their heads and points together, and a third piece of mechanism puts them into paper. One of these machines occupies no more space than an ordinary table, and each of them turns out from 30,000 to 40,000 needles a day. Most of the needles were imported from England, until a few years past.

Massillon, Wednesday, December 6.

Congress met on Monday at noon, a quorum in both houses being present. After organizing, the president's message was read to the members of congress in both branches. It is not very long but is spoken of as an able document. A prosperous condition of the country is pronounced—friendly relations with foreign powers expressed—the Washington treaty discussed, and its provisions recommended—the Cat. neazy difficulty ventilated—history of the Corean war given—condition of the army and navy announced—down with polygamy—favors the enforcement of the Ku klux law, &c. Of course we have not room for it this week, and by next week everybody who cares to will have read it in the dailies. The Cleveland Leader gives a prompt synopsis of the message.

One day last week a pounding match took place between two professional fighters, somewhere in Louisiana, and the daily papers, as usual, are many of them, filled with the sickening, disgusting details. All that these gross, brutal fellows seem to seek is noteriety, and almost every daily, and thousands of the weeklies will fill their columns with every item connected with such conflicts—and a vitiated public appetite is often appeased only by such narrations. As such men evidently seek distinction in physical combats we are fully persuaded that one effectual way to stop such disgraceful scenes, will be, when two of them agree to maul each other, to pen them up alone in a strong enclosure where nobody can see them, and let them work at it till they are satisfied. This would prevent the public from being debauched by either witnessing or reading of such contests, and save the papers the discredit of polluting their columns with such scenes as are disgraceful to civilized people. The fact that the custom is a disreputable one is clear, for in nearly or quite every state in the union there are severe laws against such combats. Still the brutal work goes on, in defiance of law, or good morals, of professed Christian principles, and to the detriment of civilization. Then, as we have long since said, pen up these combative fellows, if they must indulge in this degrading business, and they will soon become tired of such pastimes, and the practice will go out of use.

The Pennsylvania Central is a great gomiter—as the feller said when he meant gormandizer—for since it has gobbled up the Pittsburg & Chicago road, it has swallowed the Panhandle, the Camden & Amboy, (which used to own New Jersey) and the Pittsburg & Cleveland road, each for 999 years. It is bigger swallowing than the whale achieved when he sucked in Jonah, and for a longer time. Thomas Scott is the great chief of this great Pennsylvania Central anaconda, which beats Aaron's rod, that is said to have turned into a snake and swallowed all the rest of the rods (or snakes) of his brethren. He is a railroad monopolizer, and is that the reason why the Cincinnati Enquirer has nominated him as as democratic candidate for president? Democracy used to profess to be down on monopolies, but since Tweed & Co., of New York, the great Tammany chiefs, and high democratic functionaries, did such magnificent stealing, it looks as if the party had changed its policy, and favors monopolies of the hugest and most comprehensive character. In this matter of the next presidency some of the democratic leaders propose to have no candidate—let it go by default. They might as well do so, for that man Grant is going to be re elected let whoever may be put up in opposition.

More trouble is coming upon the New York ring. Tweed, the great Tammany chief, was successful in obtaining bail for twenty days to the amount of $2,000,000 but as the time is about out, and as several of the sureties wish to withdraw, the signs are increasing that the great sachem will go to Sam Oppenheimer's residence on Ludlow st. Connolly, another prominent member of the clique, was arrested the other day, and $1,000,000 bail was required of him. He could not raise it, so he has been put into Sam's house. Hall, the mayor, appears to be in danger of suffering a like fate, for the committe of seventy seem as if they were bent on mischief to these evil doers. Certainly these transgressors cannot expect mercy after such huge misdeeds as they are charged with are proven upon them. Honesty is the best policy.

It will not be surprising if one of these days the telegraph tells us of another revolution in France. The so-called republican government of that country seems to be of a very arbitrary and oppressive character, for it is often meddling with the liberty of the press, and leading publishers are subject to violence and death at the hands of the French rulers. But a few days since three prominent men were shot by government orders because they criticised, and maybe unwisely, opposed some of its doings. A vast military force was present at the execution, but notwithstanding this there were ominous, deep mutterings among the people. A spark there will produce a conflagration some day.

A committee appointed for that purpose has issued a circular to the surviving members of the nineteenth O. V. I regiment, inviting them to participate in a grand reunion, at Canton, on Tuesday, January 2, 1872. We hope the boys will have a good time, and enjoy the occasion as one of the pleasant days of their lives. While regiments and other military organizations are holding these reunions there are always some who are too far off to attend, and to give such an opportunity for enjoying themselves with their soldier brethren, why cant it be so fixed that all the heroes can come in, no matter to what portion of the union army they may have belonged?

Last week was death on hecatombs of turkeys—this week will be equally fatal to perhaps thousands of porkers The northern winds are always attended by such results. Messrs. Beatty, Atwater & Co., slaughter some hundreds of swine this week, for which they are paying from $3 25 to $3 75 on foot, and $5 for dressed pork. Buyers as well as sellers of pork find a difference in prices from last year. Blessed be them that dont eat dead hogs.

As all the dry goods, hardware stores and many other business places were closed on thanksgiving day, in this place, it was a very quiet time. No disorder was in this neighborhood, that we know of, and general sobriety characterized the day. Religious services were observed in a number of churches in which many of our citizens participated. Parties and big dinners, where turkey was a very prevalent presence, were quite common—perhaps no less than a thousand corpses of gobblers and relatives smoked on the tables that day in this city. Family reunions and neighborly gatherings were observed and general cheer marked the occasion.

The prospectus for the Banner of Light for 1872 appears in to day's paper. By that the intelligent reader will be enabled to judge of the character of the paper. From several years acquaintance with the Banner we are prepared to commend it as a paper conducted with rare ability, and especially in the discussion of questions of the most profound interest to all. It warmly advocates all salutary reforms, such as temperance and other kindred questions.

In the case to which this item refers we cannot say, Beware of the tempter. Go into many of our stores in town and the visitor will see an immense variety of fancy and useful articles, all got up in gorgeous styles, which present such inviting appearances that it will require the parsimonious feeling of the stingiest among us to not be led into investing in some of these things o beauty as well as of use. Many will submit to the temptation, and freely shell out, as by doing so they will please Young America in many ways, and also gratify not a few of the feminine persuasion. Try it, and see if this is not so.

To the west and northwest of us there has been exceedingly cold weather. In some localities the mercury has gone down to 20 degrees below zero, and much suffering, and even death has attended the cold. Many hundreds of miles west great quantities of snow have fallen, even to the depth of three and four feet. Within the last few days it has at times been quite cold here, so that sufficient ice was on the basins last Thursday to afford skating. As no snow fell the skating became better, and our youngsters had lively times in gliding over the solified water. It is a healthy pastime, but cannot well be indulged in the summer months, in this vicinity.

EVERY DISEASE HAS ITS REMEDY.

Upon this broad fact is founded the whole art and science of medicine.

That every disease has its curable stage, under proper treatment, there can be no doubt.

That they have their incurable stage, under proper treatment, may be equally true.

The curable period is during the early part of the disease, of course. The incurable being the advanced condition—the last stage.

To show the precise nature, extent and locality of the disease is of the importance in the treatment of any case.

This is precisely the reason given by Drs Oldshue, of Pitsburgh, for bringing into requisition the miscroscope, Test tube, uninometer, and all the chemical apparatus for the scientific examination of the urine in all chronic and complicated cases.

The long afflicted have not been slow to appreciate these scientific aids, and the consequence is, their office is one continued throng of patients, from all parts of the country, seeking the advantage of this skil, in diagonis.

A knowledge of the appropriate remedy however, is quite important, as without the remedy no advantage would be gained by knowing the disease.

Every disease has its remedy. This is verified in the fact that different medicine, spend their actions upon different parts of the human system.

As each particular disease spends its principal baneful action upon a certain organ or tissue of the body, according its medical qualities.

Having a knowledge of the true nature of the case, as also of the appropriate remedy the next matter of importance is its proper preparation and application.

This is done at the office of Drs. Oldshue, before mentioned.

All their medicines are compounded and their prescriptions filled by their own special direction and under their own supervision.

No medicines are passed from their prescriptions but through their hands.

Estep offers pretty embroidered handkerchiefs, real lace collars and embroidered chemisette at low prices.

A MIRACLE.

Mr. Samuel Bell, of W E Schmertz & Co., wholesale boot and shoe Manufactorers, 31 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa, has been afflicted with chronic rheumatism for thirty years, from his right hid to his foot having to use a crutch and a cane, and at times so painful as to utterly incapacitate him from tending to his business. Having tried every remedy known, without effect, except Gilliland's Pain Killer, he was finally induced to try it. A second application enabled him to lay aside his crutch, and a third effected a permanent cure. Mr. Bell, as a popular and well known citizen, is a living monument of the efficacy of that great medical discovery Gilliland's Pain Killer. The afflicted should ask their grocer or druggist for it, and try its power. Mr. Gilliland, we understand, wants a respectable agent in every town and county for it. The principal office is at 73 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

After the calm, cold ways of last week, Monday turned out somewhat rough and blustering, with slight efforts at snowing—all of which followed a light rain Sunday night.

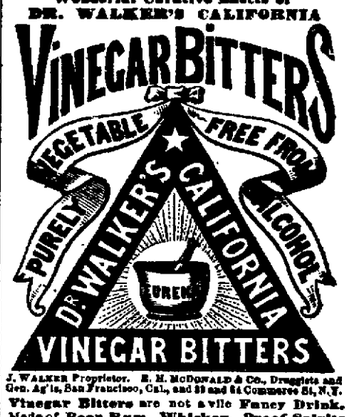
A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to the Wonderful Curative Effects of DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS



J. WALKER Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists and Gen. Ag'ts, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 and 34 Commerce St, N.Y.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erisipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores, cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

Please read, the following letter from a reliable druggist?

Mt Vernon, Ill., April 29, 1871.

Messrs. J N Harris & Cincinnatti, O.

Gentlemen—I heard one of my customers speak in such high terms of Allen's Lung Balsam to-day, that I thought I would write you the substance of his statement. He says his mother, who is now sixty years of age, has suffered with consumption for several years, and has been under the care of all our best physicians, but never received any permanent benefit, then she resorted to almost every kind of cough and lung balsam that could be procured for her, but all of no avail. She still grew worse, until she was confinee to her bed; and when she was seized with a paroxysm of coughing she would lose the power of respiration, and they were compelled to resort to various means to restore breathing; and while she coughed so hard she could not expectorate anything and the family and friends had given up all hopes of her recovery. Her son noticed the advertisement of Allen's Lung Balsam in the Christian Advocate, and they thought they would procure and try it. They commenced giving her the balsam at 5 p m., as directed, a dose every hour until midnight; then she took another spell of coughing, and expectorated a monthful of dark yellow matter, which was something she had not been able to do for some time. They continued to give her the balsam until morning and then she began to expectorate freely, and within three hours she had expectorated three pints of mucus matter, which gave her immediate relief, and since that time she has continued to improve. She now sits up all day, and can walk about the house and take considerable out-door exercise. Her son bought more of the balsam to-day, and he is recommending it very highly to every one. Your, respectfully,

A C JOHNSON, Druggist.

Was there ever greater proof of merit than the case this letter refers to?

Allen's Lung Balsam is without doubt the best expectorant remedy ever offered to the afflicted public. It contains no opium in any form, and its use is harmless to the most delicate. ☞Directions accompany each bottle. J N HARRIS & Co Prorietors.

ONE MILLION OF LIVES

SAVED!

It is one of the remarkable facts of this remarkable age, not merely that so many persons are victims of dyspepsia or indigestion, but its willing victims. Now we would not be understood to say that any one regards dyspepsia with favor, or feels disposed to rank it among the luxuries of life. Far from it. Those who have experienced its torments would scout such an idea. All dread it, and would gladly dispense with its unpleasant familiarities. There are diseases more acute and painful, and which more frequently prove fatal; but none, the effects of which are more distressing to the body. If there is a wretched being in the world it is

A CONFIRMED DYSPEPTIC.

But it not our intention to discant on the horrors of dyspepsia. To describe them truthfully is simply an impossibility. We have said that dyspepsia is perhaps the most universal of human diseases. This is emphatically the case in the United States. Whether this general prevalence is due to the character of the food, the method of its preparation, or the hasty manner in which it is usually swallowed, is not our province to explain. The great fact with which we are called to deal is this:

DYSPEPSIA PREVAILS

almost universally.

Nearly every other person you meet is a victim, an apparently willing one; for were this not the case, why so many sufferers, when a certain, speedy and safe remedy is within the reach of all who desire to avail themselves of it? But says a dyspeptic, What is this remedy? to which we reply, This great alleviator of human suffering is almost as widely known as the English language. This acknowledged panecea is none other than

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Would you know more of the merits of this wonderful medicine than can be learned from the experience of others? Try it yourself, and when it has failed to fulfil the assurance of its efficacy given by the proprietor, then abandon faith in it.

LET IT BE REMEMBERED

first of all, that Hoofland's German Bitters is not a rum beverage.

They are not alcoholic in any sense of the term. They are composed entirely of the pure juice or vital principle of roots. The extracts from which they are compounded are prepared by one of the ablest German chemists. The objections which hold with so much force against preparations of this class, namely—that a desire for intoxicating drinks is stimulated by their use, are not valid in case of the German Bitters. Their effects can be in all cases of the biliary system. Hoofland's German Bitters stand without an equal, acting promptly and vigorously on the liver; they remove its torpidity and cause healthful secretion of the bile. They impart vigor and strength to the entire system, causing the patient to feel like another being—in fact, giving him a new lease of life.

THEY PURIFY THE BLOOD,

cleansing the vital fluid of all hurtful impurities and supplanting them with the elements of genuine healthfulness. In a word, there is scarcely a disease in which they cannot be safely and beneficially employed; but in the generally prevalent distressing and dreaded disease, dyspepsia,

THEY STAND UNRIVALED.

Now, there are certain classes of persons to whom expreme bitters are not only unpalatable, but who find it impossible to take them without positive discomfort. For such has been prepared. It is intended for use where a slight alcoholic stimulant is required. This tonic contains all the ingredients of the bitters, but so flavored as to remove the extreme bitterness.

HOOFLAND'S TONIC

acts with almost marvelous effect. It not only stimulates the flagging and wasting energies, but invigorates and permenently strengthens its action upon the liver and stomach thorough, perhaps less prompt than the Bitters, when the same quality is taken is none the less certain. Indigestion, biliousness; physical or nervous prostration, yield readily to its potent influence. It gives strength to weekness, throws dspondency to the winds, and starts the restored invalid upon a new and gladsome career. But Dr. Hoofland's benefactions to the human race are not confined to his celebrated or his invaluable Tonic. He has prepared another medicine, which is rapidly winning its way to popular favor because of its intrinsic merits. This is a perfect substitute for mercury, without any of mercury's evil qualities.

GERMAN BITTERS,

These wonderful pills which are intended to act upon the liver, are mainly composed of Podophyllin, or the VITAL PRINCIPLE OF MANDRAKE ROOT.

Now we disire the reader to distinctly understand that this extract of the Mandrake is many times more powerful than the Mandrake itself. It is the medical virtues of this health giving plant in a perfectly pure and highly concentrated form. Hence it is that two of the Podophyllin pills constitue a full dose, while anywhere six to eight or a handful of other properations of the Mandrake are required. The Podophyllin stimulating its functions and causing it to make its biliary secretions in regular and proper quantities. The injurious results which invariably follow the use of mercury is entirely avoided by their use.

Possessing desirable qualities, the Podophyllin becomes invaluable as a

FAMILY MEDICINE

No household shou'd be without them. They are perfectly safe, require but two for an ordinary dose are prompt and efficient in action, and when used in connection with Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, or Tonic, may be regarded as certain specifics in all cases of liver complaint dyspepsia, or any of the disorders to which the system is ordinarily subject. The act upon the stomach and bowels, carrying off improper obstructions, while the Bitters or Tonic purify the blood.

THE AMERICAN

Button-Hole, Overseam n

—AND—

Complete Sewing Machine.

The first and only Button-hole and Sewmachine combined that has made its advent in this or any other country.

☞The following reasons are given why this is the best

Family Machine to Purchase:

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do, sewing from the finest to the coarsest material, hemming, felling, cording, braiding, binding, gathering and sewing on at the same time, ruffling, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.
2. Because the tensions are more easily adjusted than any other machine.
3. Because it can make a beautiful button hole, making as fine a pearl as by hand.
4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment.
5. Because it will make a beautiful eyelet hole.
6. Because it can do overhand seaming, by which sheets, pillow cases, and the like are sewed over and over.
7. Because you can quickly raise or lower the feed to adapt it to thick or thin cloth.
8. Because you have a short deep bobbin by which the thread is constantly drawn from the center; the tension is consequently even and does not break the thread.
9. Because the presser foot turns back; that the cloth can be easily removed after being sewed.
10. Because the best mechanics pronounce it the best finished and made on the best principle of any machine manufactured.
11. Because it has a better shuttle than any other machine.
12. Because it runs easier and quieter than any other heavy machine.
13. Because it is two machines in one—a button hole working and sewing machine combined.

It is to last a lifetime, and therefore one is wanted that will do the most work, and do it the best, and this machine can do several kinds of sewing not done on any other machine, besides doing every kind that all others can do.

The American or Plain Sewing Machine

Is a beautiful family and light manufacturing machine, possessing all the superior qualities of the combined machine, except making button holes and overseaming. In all other respects the principal of construction is the same.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.—This is the name of a superior brand of really fine flavored smoking tobacco, placed upon our table by the well known manufactrarer, E S. Pilkinton, Esq. We tried it, and the flavor was so delightful that we were involuntarily carried away into dreamland—we were transported from dreary winter into a balmy climate. In our dreams we wandered amid orange groves and sipped the choicest wines we reveled in elysian fields of flowers, the perfumes of which lifted us above all pain and sorrow, care and trouble. We lived a lifetime of delight in a few moments. We awoke, and found that we had been overcome by the perfume of the Fruits and Flowers, and we returned thanks for the charming respite from earth's toils and labors.—Richmond Times.

LOCAL MATTERS.

On the evening of Friday the 15 inst Bishop McIlvaine (D V) will preach in the Episcopal church of this place. He will also administer the the apostolic rite of confirmation.

The four Sundays preceding Christmas day and Sundays in advent. During these Sundays the Rev Mr Dean of the Episcopal church will deliver a series of sermons on the second coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. Next Sunday evening, the sermon will be upon the signs of His second coming, especially with reference to the nearness of that event.

On Monday last a railroad man, Lew Reese, had a portion of one of his hands badly mangled on one of the coal cars, and the probabilities are he will lose two or three fingers. Mr. R. is a citizen of Wooster.

It was reported on last Monday that a volunteer chicken dealer was nabbed the night previous, when on a visit to somebody's hen roost, and that he found his way to the calaboose. The probability is, this hero wont crow over that achievment. Chicken business is a little risky, especially on the volunteer plan. Cash and conscription save credit.

Whether the report is correct or not it is current here that certain parties are asking our county commissioners to purchase a little piece of land near the county courthouse at the rate of a thousand dollars a foot. To tax payers on section eight this looks like pretty heavy business—provided the story is true—and if correct it is very possible some of them may protest against the measure. We have thought it nothing less than duty to refer to this matter, so as to find out whether such project is seriously contemplated, and if so to let everybody know of it.

At the American as well as at the Zielle House, we understand that large numbers of guests fared sumptously, on last Thursday, as the proprietors of both those leading hotels know how to enrich their tables with the luxuries of the season. These dinners did credit to all interested in catering for the benefit of the visitors.

We rise to explain that, in referring to E. McClymonds, Esq., last week, it was an error to place him back in the Union National Bank. He expects to open a law office here next spring. As he has had experience in the profession, he is worthy and well qualified to go into business.

Mr. Henry Snyder, proprietor of the Franklin House, on Canal st., has so improved and renovated his premises that the place is almost new. Of course he is receiving a fair patronage, for he keeps a quiet, orderly hotel, and won't have any liquor about.

If not a matter of satisfaction to all, at least it is a gratification to many to be able to trace their genealogy back to preceding generations, so they may know who their ancestors were. This curiosity is natural to us all, whatever may be the theory of the origin of man. In the eastern states care has been taken for generations to keep the genealogy of many families. Such an interest is taken in this matter that qualified members of certain families, who are in possession of the requsite information, have compiled and published genealogies, running back some two or three hundred years. Two families of this places are favored with books containing the names of their ancestry, as far as they can be traced, even to the eighth generation. It is surprising to see how this human multiplication table increases as time moves on. In one of these families alluded to, the number of the entire relationship, originating with two persons, in the course of say eight generations, is between 3.000 and 4,000 persons. There is no mystery about this multiplying business, for that has always been going on, but in these special cases, where pains have been taken to embody the names of certain families, it is a satisfaction to be informed as to who were our predecessors, where they came from, and many important facts about them.

The cold, howling wind on Monday night made the time a formidable one on which to venture out and face its fierce blasts as they swept in rapid succession from the northwest. Fancy pictures were made on glass that evening by the proprietor of the weather, who manifested the finest skill in doing elegant work. He has accomplished such jobs before, and fears no rival in the completeness of his art, or the extent of his performances. Tuesday morning was stinging cold.

Mr. Coleman means business, as his renewed advertisement in to-day's paper indicates. His new goods are now or very soon will be here, so customers will please call, examine, and no doubt they will be so well pleased as to invest in many of the nice and useful articles they see.

The Debatable Land is the title of a new work just issued from the Boston press of Wm. White & Co., by Robert Dale Owen. In this work Mr. O. has embodied the result of much thought on the subject of immortality. He takes original views of many mooted theological questions—at least we infer this from the advertisement of the work. It was to be issued on the 30th ult. and already thousands of copies have been called for. Mr. O. is a prominent spiritualist, and takes broad and liberal views of religious doctrines, while he inculcates morals of the purest character. It is surprising to see what a library of works more or less directly connected with spiritualism since its advent less than a quarter of a century ago have been produced, and many of them by those among the deepest thinkers of the age. While this class of people teach as unexceptionable morals as they have been doing, there will be but a slim chance for opposition to destroy or overthrow their positions.

CIGAR STORE.—Mr. G. W. Demuth, who for some months past has been engaged as a manufacturer and wholesale dealer in cigars, has opened a stand in Geo. Young's room for the purpose of carrying on the retail branch of the trade. Mr. D. is an excellent judge of tobacco and cigars, and will keep none but the best brands to be had in market. If any of our readers doubt the correctness of this assertion, let them step in at the sign of the Cherokee lady, and the gentlemanly proprietor will prove its correctness.

Work is about to be commenced on the new railroad in this vicinity—at least that is the talk among our people. From all we can find out it will not come on this side of the river but continue on the west side—for there is where the engineers have located it. The probabilities now are that an independent road will be built north of this, for it don't look as if the present road will be used by the proposed one. Yet the question remains an open one, and no one seems to know what conclusion will be arrived at finally.

Both the Monitor and Local of Alliance unite in awarding much credit to Mr Chance, the Buckeye Broadax, for his great success in lecturing on the subject of temperance. One of the largest halls was densely crowded the other evening to see and hear Mr. C. make the chips fly, and he hewed to the line for some two hours, maintaining a deep interest all the time, so that none left the meeting. He challenged discussion, and even offered to pay opponents to come to the hall and defend their cause, but none ventured to appear. We hope some day that Mr. C. will chance to come here and raise the rallying cry for temperance, as only he can do it. He is a veteran in the work, and for many years has raised a warning cry against the great Apollyon, intemperance.

Mr. Tilton, the editor and publisher of that vigorous and ably conducted paper The Golden Age, announces that it is a success thus far, and he proposes to continue it in the same style as heretofore carried out. Although not a year since this paper begun it has achieved a national reputation for its thorough radicalism on some of the leading questions of the day. Mr. T is not a man who goes with the current in order to seek popular applause, but comes out independently, and he states in his prospectus for the coming year that "if I could have my choice of subscribers, I would choose those who are averse to the Golden Age's views." The editor, in fine and forcible language, promulgate his views on all questions of morals and politics without restraint. He is one of the sort who wont be deterred from a full expression of his sentiments by any opposition. So all who would take a live and ably conducted paper from New York, send to Theodore Tilton, box 2848, and you will be amply remunerated in reading a most candid weekly.

Rev R. Dickson, D D, for several years pastor of the Presbyterian church at New Lisbon, at some $1200 a year, has recently received a CALL by the church at New Albany, Indiana, where they propose paying him $2,000 a year, and generously offer other favors. In a business way it would be natural for a man to accept such a change, and Mr. D, the papers of that place state, contemplates removing to his new home at an early day. D D's are like the rest of us—they go where the greatest pay comes in. By the last week's Patriot we notice that some unpleasant feeling exists between Mr. Dickson J H Wallace, Esq., as the latter comes out in a communication in which he criticises the course of Mr D. in reference to certain matters. This is unfortunate, and we hope it may soon end.

Just going east, Mr. G. P. Reed. He knows when to make these eastern visits, and always makes it tell. For anything in the dry goods line Reed's is a good place to secure a supply.

OBITUARY.

"Implored so long in vain, at last has come
The hour that leads me to a peaceful home."

DIED

Tuesday evening, Nov. 28, at the homestead, Massillon, Lydia E. wife of Eby Jarvis, in the 65th year of her age.

Mrs. Jarvis was born in Edmeston, Otsego Co., N. Y., May 15th, 1807. Married at Fly Creek, Feb. 19th, 1829. Removed the same year to Lowville, Lewis Co., where all her children were born. Came to Massillon in 1849, where she has since resided.

Associating herself early in life with the Church of Christ, and accepting the standard of the cross as her guide, her religious faith has been exemplified by the strictest adherence to the demands of duty, and in deeds of benevolence to the poor and needy, by whom she will be gratefully remembered.

Long deprived by reason of severe and protracted illness from taking an active part in the society, which for years her cheerful disposition and genial nature had graced, she will nevertheless be mourned by a large circle of friends and neighbors.

She was the mother of five children, Dwight, Chas. E., and Ceylina N. Jarvis, Mrs. Gilbert O. Fay, and Mrs. T. B. George, all of whom, with the husband of her youth, were present to participate in the last solemn rites, on Saturday, the 2d inst., at ten o'clock, a. m.

"Then was the truth received into my heart,
That under heaviest sorrow earth can bring,
If from the affliction somewhere do not grow,
Honor, which could not else have been a faith
An elevation and a sanctity;
If new strength be not given nor old restored,
The blame is ours, not nature's." COM.

DIED—At his residence near Massillon, on the 3d inst. Henry Rhorer, aged 60 years.

The Great Pictorial Annual.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1872, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States, and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, in the English, German, French, Norwegian, Welsh, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calender.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary, effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable reciped for the household and farm, humorus anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and select. Among the annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful and may be had for the asking. The proprietors, Messrs Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood The Bitters are sold in every city town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

The St. Timothy's church will give a supper and promenade concert, at the Zeilly House, Thursday evening, Dec. 7th at 7 o'clock; admission, 10cts. All are invited. A fine sign will be voted to the most popular business house in the city.

Geo. F. Train, a sort of erratic genius who flits about like a comet, in a very eccentric orbit, has a paper started favoring his claims for the next presidency, which is represented as coming from Omaha, called The Train Ligue. Motto, God save the people—Down with kings—smash the rings. This little paper is about 12 by 18 inches square. Editor in chief, the people. A portion of his sensational head, which indicates the contents of this paper reads as follows: George Francis Train and the man of God—the devil among the churches—the first pagan in the white house—a man of destiny speaks for twelve hundred and ninety seven millions of people, &c. Train, the pagan, has a debate with a preacher, and of course uses him up. The little paper is full of wild vagaries.

The American Odd Fellow for December is a splendid number. It has beautifully illustrated articles on Chicago and the Indians first class stories; various sketches; pithy paragraphs on scientific subjects; humorous and general miscellany; letters from under a lamp-post; choice poetry; news from the Order everywhere, &c. With the next number commences the thirteenth volume of this widely circulated magazine It is the oldest and acknowledged to be the best publication of the order of Odd Fellows, and is at the same time a superior magazine. Send on your subscriptions to the A O F Association, No 96 Nassau street, New York. $1 25 per volume; $2 50 a year. Try the American Odd Fellow for a year and you will never regret it.

The Herald of Health in this months issue concludes a series of twelve papers on the temperance question—the last by O. B. Frothingham. All these essays will probably appear in book form, as they are well worthy of that distinction. Other excellent reading follows the essay. A series of remarkable papers on health questions will appear in next volume, the productions of standard old writers. The publishers propose to give liberal premiums to subscribers. Try them. Wood & Holbrook, N. Y.

The Schoolday Visitor comes this month in a bran new dress, which fits its handsome form admirably. Never saw it so well dressed before, though we helped to put on its fixins in its earlier days—about the time Jeff Davis was commencing to play president, but ended his reign in petticoats. It is cheap at $1 a year Send a green stamp to J. W. Daughaday & Co., Philadelphia, and he will respond with the particulars.

Peters' Musical Monthly for Dec. contains 34 pages of music—about 20 pieces, all new and original. This can all be had for 30 c. Who can furnish cheaper music? Bound volume for 1871, got up in beautiful style, can be had, in which are is about $50 worth of harmony and song, all for $5. Peters is sues also another neat music book admirably adapted to the season, Christmas Chimes—in which there are some 20 pieces The religious public will keenly appreciate this beautiful little work. N.Y.

Whitney's Musical Guest, devoted to the interests of music—in which is found much musical literature. It is well and favorably known to the lovers of song in Ohio and the west, where it is best acquainted. Toledo.

Our Pittsburg friends, publishers of the People's Monthly, bid fair to rival the eastern long established pictorial and literary periodicals. The November number is graced with quite a number of well executed illustrations, among which is Teddy's truly comic letter. This monthly is well adapted to the wants of the working as well as literary classes, and everybody will like it.

The Household, by G. E Crowell & Co, Brattleboro, Vermont, has been noticed favorably before, and we see evidence in its continued excellence. It deserves a place in every household.

The Coachmaker's International Journal is just the instructor that all good carriage builders will not do without. Elegantly and beautifully printed—J. D. Ware, publisher, Philadelphia, Pa.

Merry's Museum, by Horace Fuller, Boston, is well suited for the young. It is not a juvenile in years, but continues such in character.

John L. Shorey, Boston, continues to please who knows how large an army of the little people in the beautifully printed, pictorial Nursery. The tiny folks who are favored with this book are well off,

The Ohio Educational Monthly, the good teacher's mentor, E. E. White, Columbus, is appropriately esteemed one of the best of that class of periodicals found anywhere.

American Homes, illustrated; published by Charles H. Taylor, Boston, is a new and well deserving candidate for public favor, It is filled with choice reading matter.

The Schoolmate, the favorite of the boys and girls, by Joseph Allen, of Boston, continues its fine illustrations and choice reading.

American Educational Monthly, J. W. Schermerhorn & Co., New-York. This is always one of the best filled educational papers with which we are favored.

Great bargains in dress goods—the largest variety of styles—you can surely buy a nice dress very cheap by going to Ricks'.

The holidays are coming—when you buy your presents buy something that will be of service. You can find at Ricks' any quantity of useful presents. Come and see.

Four Evils.—Whosoever habitually usees any alcoholic preparations as an 'appetizer' will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an over plus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia and a doctor's bill. Dr. Walkers Vegetable Vinegar Bitters, the teetotal restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

I know you will be surprised if you go to Ricks' and see how much fine toilet soap you can buy for a dollar. Try it.

White nubias, Shetland shawls, hoods and Rob Roy shawls at Esteps'.

In the active pursuits of pleasure or gain the inestimable blessing of health is too often forgotten, until disease is firmly seated, and the fact only realized by great bodily and mental suffering. The liver is the vulnerable point in most persons, and the disarrangement of that organ involves almost the whole system; hence the reason why under Liver disease there is enumerated such a number of afflictions, and we claim the Simmons' Liver Regulator to be a remedy for them all.

A Fact. Dr. Henry's Root and plan Pills an effectual family cathartic medicine. Try them. See advertisement in another column. 449 4t

On Friday and Saturday of last week the Wallace Sisters and troupe were very liberally patronized by our citizens, the Opera Hall being well filled on both evening. Their visitors were much pleased with the entertainments given, and many are willing to see and hear them again. They are somewhat popular here.

THE AMERICAN WASHER!
PRICE, $5.50,

The American Washer saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no longer dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting. It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a quilt to a lace curtain or cambric handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of the Little Gem! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

All that is asked for this great labor saver, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly. Sole agents for the United States,

A certain paterfamilias residing near Winstead, Ct., and who is in the habit of enacting of his household a strict fulfillment of all devotional duties, recently heard a terrible racket among the youngsters in their dormitory. Going to the staircase he sternly demanded to know what was the matter up there,—the following was the explicit reply: 'Harry won't let me say my prayers, d—n him.'

When breathing air that is dusty, or ill smelling, or otherwise impure, draw the breath slowly through the nostrils. In this way the dust or other impurities are in part arrested in the moist and narrow nasal passages, and are prevented from being thrown up on the lungs. When we breathe through the mouth they are carried more directly thither. Many would lengthen their lives by resolutely breathing through their nostrils.

There is not any room for doubting that the coming winter is to be awfully cold. The prophets all say so, and the man is insane who disputes the prophets. They have found the moss growing thick on the trees, sunflowers pointing toward the north pole, grape vines running around poles, instead of up them, and there are a thousand other signs to show that every human being will be frozen as stiff as a chip before February.

There were received at Omaha from the Pacific coast, from January 1, 1871 to October 1, 1871, no less than five hundred and ten car loads of teas; during the month of October there were received at Omaha, or were in transit from the Pacific coast thither, two hundred and three car loads, making a total of seven hundred and thirteen car loads forwarded from the Pacific coast to Omaha during the first ten months of the present year.

After achieving so many things that were deemed impossible, that word has been banished from the vocabulary of civilized men. Eclectic Physician,

Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.

Office east of the Park, second door of Mr. Falke's new building.

All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.

Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgment of both patient and physician.

Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters,
